Advisory Board/Code Enforcement: Efird wanted everyone to know that we've had a general zoning change in Oakboro. Our R-9, which is some of the smaller lots in town – in the past, you could build apartment or multi-family homes. We've basically taken the R-9 and changed it where it's only for single family dwelling. We've added a new classification, which is R-9 Multi Family. This will give us a way of controlling where our growth will occur, it will control not having apartments in a residential area. If anyone would like, they can come before the Zoning Board to get their lots changed to R-9 Multi-family.
